"Incurable."

We know that it sounds queerish to talk about the Electropneumatic incurable diseases but bear a mind the fact is that the old doctor who has pronounced the case incurable. We do not make the claim that we can cure all incurable diseases, but we do maintain that we can cure every case pronounced incurable by your family physician is a splendid field for the operation of the Electropneumatic. It may be just what treatment necessary, and is quite likely to be so. If it fails, this is no argument against the "cure," but in such a case, the fact of the physician's statement is proven to be true. But many of the patients who have been given up by his physician who has again received life through treatment of the Electropneumatic.

Why suffer with that headache, when you can secure a box of Merginaine at this office for 50 cents and get immediate relief.

If you are indebted to this office on subscription, job work or advertising, you will oblige us very much by coming to the Captain's office and paying your dues. We need a little of the fifty here about as bad as a hole does a man's pocket, and your promptness will relieve our distress and be forever appreciated. Never mind the rush. Come on and we'll try and attend your wants.

A Correction.

Mr. Editor—Dear Sir: You will please correct some mistakes concerning my father's death. Instead of it being Wm. Halsey it is David Halsey. His wife died in 1869 and he remained a widower the remainder of his days. He leaves five children, four sons and one daughter, to mourn his loss. He had been confined to his bed for more than seven years. He was years old the 14th of last May. He departed this life the 29th of September, 1895. He was a kind father to his children who were left alone in his care and protection and he did a good part by us. We are glad that we can give him this honor. He was a member of the Church of Christ, and died in a good hope of going to a better world. Yours truly,

CHILDREN OF DAVID HALSEY, Deceased.

"While down in the southwestern part of the state some time ago," says Mr. W. Chalmers, editor of the Chico (Cal.) Enterprise, "I had an attack of dysentery. Having heard of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I bought a bottle. A couple of doses of it completely cured me. Now I am a champion of that remedy for all stomach and bowel complaints. For sale by J. M. Rose, druggist."

An Open Letter.

HAZEL GREEN, KY., Oct. 4, 1895.

Hon. J. P. Salter, West Liberty, Ky.:

Dear Sir and Friends—The school of political tricks is now in session with a full faculty of the best teachers we have ever had. Several new men have taken the places made vacant by death and resignation. You can read your lieutenants at any time. The lectures begin at 9 at night and the wire work is done just before daybreak. Will continue in regular session until after November.

Rah for Wat and Joe R!

Humbly your friends,

J. A. TAUBER, Dean.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce CHAS. T. BYRD, of Campton, as a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk for Wolfe county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The election is not far off now and Bradley realizes that each day brings him nearer to his doom.

Get together, Democrats, quit your cousin's kicking and make a united effort for the success of the ticket next month.

The old Liberty bell that pealed forth the independence of the American people in 1776, has been taken to the Atlanta exposition.

A telegram states that a man in Cincinnati had seven gallons of water pumped off of his lungs. It's safe to gamble that he wasn't a Kentuckian.

The governor of Arizona thinks that territory entitled to statehood. Maybe it is, basing the population on centipedes, Gila monsters, Greaser Mexicans and Digger Indians.

The registration over the state is the largest for years, and while the Republicans show large gains, the Democratic ticket will win in a walk if the Democrats who have registered will go to the polls and do their duty.

Republicans have fallen out among themselves at Lexington over who should be the candidate for mayor. Perhaps the old saying, "when thieves fall out honest men get their dues," will hold good in this case.

"Bloody bridges" Waite, the one time Populist governor of Colorado, fired the first gun of the Populist campaign in Ohio, at Springfield Friday. He will stump the state in the interest of his hobo friend, Coney.

Rev. Stephen A. Northrup, the new pastor of the First Baptist church at Cincinnati, says he is not seeking notoriety, but will devote all of his time to snatching brands from the burning. Would that all ministers would do the same.

A high medical authority says that the gray matter of the brain forms in the finger tips, feet and other nerve centers of those afflicted with total blindness. This accounts for the large pedal extremities of our blind fire silver friends. The gray matter of their brains has run principally to feet.

At Barbourville Wednesday last a big Republican rally was arranged for and had been advertised far and wide. Col. Bradley was to be the orator of the day. He came and the Republican host rallied to the extent of 200. Bradley consumed about two hours explaining why he ran away from Eminence. Billy don't draw well.

When Governor Charles Culberson of Texas donned the gloves and stepped into the arena to do battle with the lanky Antipodean, Bob Fitzsimmons, and the pompadoured California beauty, Jim Corbett, he had in his corner the legislature of the great state of Texas to give him pointers on the game. He snarled for an opening, and in just two hours after time was called the plucky governor was declared a winner. This decision of the legislature forever kills prize fighting in the Lone Star State. This brilliant victory over the prize-rig toughs is all the greater when compared with the miserable fiasco of your Uncle Henry Mitchell of Florida when he essayed to take the Corbett-Mitchell fight a few years ago.

At Greensburg Wednesday, W. S. Taylor, Republican nominee for Attorney General, wanted Gen. Hardin to divide time with him. Wat told him to trot out the short horse from Garrard and he would divide time with him, but not with the small fry. Billy don't want any time with Wat. Since that Eminence affair the burden of Billy's song is, "There are moments when one wants to be alone."

Charley Moore, the Blue Grass Blade editor, was cited to appear in the Federal court at Louisville on Tuesday last. The charge on which he answered the summons was that of sending obscene literature through the mails, and if he be found guilty the people of this country will have witnessed the last act in the drama of the Blue Grass Blade, which was for a time the leading play with very many. Charley should remember that "the way of the transgressor is hard." We know it full well.

Auditor Norman, in reply to a question, stated that the minutes of the Sinking Fund Commissioners and the records of his office were open to the inspection of all reputable persons, and that they are subject at all times to the inspection of the governor and the legislature. He further stated that he was under $200,000 bond for the faithful discharge of his duties and that the state inspector and examiner was present at every monthly settlement between the treasurer and auditor. What more do the Republicans want? The Commercial claims that Norman "juggled" the books for campaign purposes and has printed columns of stuff daily, stating that the books of the auditor could not be seen, and yet, the Commercial was accorded the privilege of examining the books, which privilege it never availed itself of. The Commercial delights in misrepresentation, but flimsy statements based on falsehood carry no weight, and the rabid utterances of the Louisville Pervert of Facts will avail nothing.

After November Bradley will have disappeared forever from Kentucky's political arena. He had a fighting chance to win, but blasted his own hopes by his childish action in refusing to continue the debates with Hardin. The idol of his party in Kentucky and with the Democrats divided among themselves, his chances of victory were flattered indeed. 'Twas the Republicans' chance of a life time, and who can blame them for feeling sad and disgusted when they see their fondest hopes shattered by the babyish and cowardly action of the man whom they had selected as their standard bearer? Billy dug his own grave; he has been weighed in the balance and proven an ill-starred leader, and will sink into the oblivion of a political has-been, unworried, unthought of and unused by even his own party. We have witnessed the passing of Bradley. He has proven himself the shortest horse that ever went to the post with a thoroughbred, and his star of destiny, that looked at the beginning of the campaign as if 'twould light his pathway to the gubernatorial chair, has sunk forever beneath the lowering clouds of popular disfavour. Bewell, Billy, you sought to rise to eminence on a I E ninence proved your Waterloo.

General William Mahone, ex-governor of Virginia, ex-congressman and ex-senator from that state, and a man who has been conspicuous in national politics for nearly half a century is lying at the point of death at his hotel in Washington. Gen. Mahone's life has been a tragic one, inasmuch as he sacrificed fortune and social prestige for that which he believed to be right. As a southern senator, a Confederate general and an F. V. V., he voted with the Republicans at a time when a bill of momentous importance to southerners hinged on his vote, and amidst a storm of hisses and derisive laughter from the Democratic side of the senate and under the scathing sarcasm of the gifted Ben Hill of Georgia, he had the courage, the manhood and the ability to stand on the floor of the senate and defend his position in a manner that won for him the admiration of the unbiased and proved conclusively that he was the equal, intellectually, of the most brilliant member of that body. For this act he and his family were ostracised by the southerners, his business went to pieces and it is said that he is now penniless. But the world will yet come to accord to Gen. Mahone simple justice, and recognize his true worth, for he was a man of marked ability and his passing away removes from Virginia politics the most unique figure of the century.

Genial John C. Wood, Republican candidate for railroad commissioner, was through this country last week in the interest of his ticket, and incidentally adding new friends to an already large list in this section. The Herald is for Hon. Green R. Keller for railroad commissioner and in favor of John C. remaining at home and running the Gazette. John is too good a newspaperman to forsake the tripod and scissors for the spoils of public office. Personally he is one of the most pleasant and courteous gentlemen that it was ever our pleasure to meet, and is possessed of the talent, genius and ability to grace any position to which he may be called to fill. The worst thing that can be said of John Wood is that he is a Republican, and he is not wholly responsible for that calamity, for his father before him has been a fighting Republican for a life span, and John is a chip of the old block. If we must have a Republican railroad commissioner for this district he is our choice of the entire state. As editor of the Mt. Sterling Gazette since its initial number, he has ever shown a disposition to be fair with those who did not politically agree with him, and has always refrained from "slinging mud" and vilifying his Democratic opponents, and has conducted a clean, fair, though aggressive Republican paper. Change your politics, John, and we are for you for any office you may aspire to fill.

Free to our Readers.

A first class, high grade monthly home journal has come to be a necessity in every household. Such a journal, well conducted, occupies a special relation to every member of the family circle. One of the best journals of this character we have seen, is the Woman's Health Journal, published at Chattanooga, Tenn. The choice stories, charming verse and interesting miscellany, appeal alike to young and old. Its special departments—Fashion, Among Our Girls, A Page for Mothers, The Home-keeper, With the Children and the Health and Hygiene Department, edited by a competent and experienced physician, make it invaluable to any home.

THE HERALD, always on the lookout for what will profit its readers, has secured fifty yearly subscriptions to The Woman's Health Journal, which it proposes to give away during the next 60 days.

A year's subscription to this journal will be given to:

- (1) Every new subscriber to THE HERALD who pays cash;
 - (2) Every old subscriber who renews by Nov. 15;
 - (3) Every delinquent subscriber who pays up arrearages.
- These subscriptions won't last long. First come, first served. Call at this office and see sample copy.

Another Old Clock.

J. M. Havens, the jeweler here, has just put in running order another old wooden wheel clock. It is the property of Aunt Nan Swango, and is supposed to be the oldest in the country. It was formerly the property of Ralph Steele, of Tazewell county, Virginia, and was bought at the sale after his death by his son, and later brought to Hazel Green about the year 1842, where it continued to keep time till during the late war, when some accident stopped it and it has remained quiet until about a week ago. It was then brought to Havens, who, by carving out and replacing a new wheel with part of the frame and the pallet has it ticking away as merrily as it did 80 years ago. It is one of the Bartholomew clocks, the oldest made in the United States, but it is now a perfect time-keeper.

Some day, some time, some where, you will probably know what it is to have a sick headache. Do not go to the drug store and take a powerful liver pill, for there is something better to be had at no extra cost. Ask for a box of Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills (and Pellets). Simple but always effective; two separate medicines, one to cleanse the liver and the other to purify the blood, build up the strength and the appetite. Ask your druggist about it and get a free trial dose of the pills.

—Miss Emma Slipp, accompanied by Miss Lulu Caskey, daughter of Tom Caskey, of the Prater Fork of Grassy, paid our office a pleasant call yesterday.

In olden days gourmet meant a judge of wine and gourmand of eating. Today the former is an epicure in both, and delicate in taste the latter is a glutton in both and vulgar in taste. The days of famous eating are over. We Americans are a race of dyspeptics, and the most valuable thing which the American can own today is a box of Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills, the great remedy for biliousness. 25 cents a box at the drug store—trial dose free.

Dr. Gale, the owner of Temple Bar, 2171, and the dentist who was here awhile last spring, on Monday attacked George Spears, a trainer at the Lexington fair grounds, with a heavy stick, but others interfered and stopped him. He then procured a pistol and again attempted to get at Spears, but was prevented and a warrant issued for his arrest. He had accused Spears of giving false evidence before the judges of a race at Cleveland, which resulted in his (Sale's) being ruled off, hence the trouble.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

ITS INJURIOUS TO STOP SUDDENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or stuff, opiate, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACO-CURO. It is purely a cure. You do not have to stop using tobacco with BACO-CURO. IT WILL NOTIFY YOU WHEN TO STOP and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An iron-clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded. Price $1.00 per box or 3 boxes (30 days treatment and guaranteed pure), $2.50. For sale by all druggists or will be sent by mail upon receipt of price. SEND SIX TWO CENT STAMPS FOR SAMPLE BOX. Booklets and proofs free.

ST. PAUL, MINN., September 7, 1894.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, and my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and today I consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

Shot by a Negro.

R. H. Stephenson, boss of men repairing Boone's Gap tunnel, on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, three miles south of Berea, was shot late Saturday night by Reese White, colored, who lives in the neighborhood. The negro fired three times, one shot taking effect in the chest, another in the arm. The wounds are probably fatal. White is still at large. The trouble arose over a woman which the negro had rented to Stephenson.

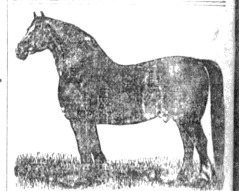

Remember that the Flying Dutchman, run by steam, with an organ accompaniment, will be at the fair next Saturday. The ladies and children can ride to their hearts content. To see it is a show within itself.

After a hard struggle for existence the Montgomery County Times has ceased to exist. This removes from the journalistic ranks one of the brightest and most original writers in the state. Mr. S. S. Cassidy, who will now represent the Singer Sewing Machine company in the counties of Montgomery and Bath.

Mr. J. K. Fowler, secretary and treasurer of the Corinne Mill, Canal and Stock Co., of Corinne, Utah, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy says: "I consider it the best in the market. I have used many kinds but find Chamberlain's the most prompt and effective in giving relief, and now keep no other in my home." When troubled with a cough or cold, give this remedy a trial and we assure you that you will be more than pleased with the result. For sale by John M. Rose, druggist.

There are some fifteen or twenty horses in training at the Hazel Green fair grounds, which is the largest number ever trained here in one season. The list includes trotters, pacers, runners and combined goers, and this list will be largely supplemented by a large number of horses trained on other tracks. Fine sport is promised all who may attend and if you fail to get there, Eli, no one will regret it more than you.
